

FOUNDED IN 1823

TRINITY REPORTER

VOLUME 4 NUMBER 7

TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

MAY, 1974

The Jesters' Own Dramatic Story

By Sue Weisselberg '76

The story of the Jesters — Trinity's dramatic group which began over a century ago — has its own dramatic side. It's a rags-to-riches tale, beginning with casual "society melodrama" and developing into a full-fledged academic department with a modern theatre.

The evolution of the group, always dependent on available facilities, took place in spurts. From 1871 to 1887, productions were both casual and occasional, and were for the purpose of "the cultivation of histrionic talent, intellectual improvement, and the entertainment of ourselves and others." In 1887, Alumni Hall opened; its upper floor had an auditorium that was used as the College theatre until the late 1920's, when all of Alumni Hall was taken over by the athletic department. Shortly after, the auditorium was destroyed by fire.

Jesters rented theatres in the area for their productions until 1949, when Alumni Hall's lower floor was converted to Connecticut's first arena theatre. From then on, the Jesters productions usually remained on campus, first in the arena theatre, and, from 1965 to the present, in Goodwin Theatre of the Austin Arts Center. In 1969, theatre arts at Trinity ceased to be just an extracurricular activity and became a formal department and major.

With the completion of Alumni Hall in 1887, the Trinity Dramatic Club finally had a stage. In October of that year, it announced that it would attempt a season of "society melodrama or light farce." After that the club, which donated all proceeds to the Treasury of the Athletic Association, gave at least two plays a year.

THE NINETIES -- Pictured above are Trinity students in "My Lord in Livery," an all-male production of a one-act farce. It was presented in December of 1891 in Alumni Hall.

Full props and costumes were used in most of the plays. Men usually took both male and female parts; not until the early 1900's did Hartford area women regularly play female roles. In 1894 the drama club took the name "The Jesters," and it has been used ever since.

The Jesters, who had suffered through a slump during and after World War I, enjoyed a revival during the 1920's. They reorganized themselves in the fall of 1923, deciding to continue to produce two plays a year. A person who played a single part was called a Junior Jester. One who played two major, one major and one minor, or three minor parts was made a Senior Jester, and awarded a charm for his efforts.

From 1924 to 1926 the Jesters were a social and financial success, producing "The Turtle Dove," by Margaret Scott Oliver; "Rollo's Wild Oat," by Clare Kummer; "The Dover Road," by A.A. Milne; "Arms and the Man," by George Bernard Shaw; "The Whole Town's" (Continued on Page 3)

More Students Applying to Enter Trinity

Trinity's next freshman class will be drawn from the largest applicant pool in the college's history.

The college anticipates that about 450 men and women will enroll as freshmen in September. If this expectation is met, the class would be slightly larger than last year's entering class of 421, but smaller than the 495 freshmen who enrolled in 1972.

While private college enrollments nationwide declined last year and sharp drops in enrollment are predicted nationally for the rest of the decade, applications to Trinity nevertheless increased 20 percent this year. The total of 1,898 applications — 1,251 women and 1,647 men — increased by 481 over last year's admission total of 2,417.

According to college statistics, the number of male applicants this year is equal to the greatest number of men who ever applied to Trinity before the decision to become coeducational in 1969.

Included in this year's applications were 145 from minority people, up from last year when 124 applied. Letters of acceptance were sent to 1,154 people, including 641 men and 513 women. There were 90 minority people — black, Latin and Asian — among those admitted.

Auditorium Named to Honor Boyer

Trinity College has named the auditorium in the Albert C. Jacobs Life Sciences Center after the late Francis Boyer, former chairman of the board of Smith Kline & French Laboratories and benefactor of the College.

Francis Boyer, who died May 21, 1972, was associated with the pharmaceutical firm of Smith, Kline & French for more than 50 years, from 1919 until his retirement in 1970. He was executive vice president from 1936-1951, president from 1951-1958, and chairman of the board from 1958-1966.

Photograph, Page 2

He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree (Sc.D.) from Trinity in 1961.

Mr. Boyer established a scholarship fund at Trinity in memory of his son, John Francis Boyer, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1954. John Boyer, a member of Trinity's Class of 1953, had spent three semesters at Trinity before transferring to the University of Pennsylvania. A prolific writer, he had been editorial associate of the Tripod, and wrote short stories and poetry for the Trinity Review, and had been published in other journals.

Also in memory of his son, Boyer made a gift to provide for the Tripod office in Mather Campus Center when it was built in 1960.

Clifton Bockstoe Joins Trinity as V.P., Treasurer

Clifton M. Bockstoe

Clifton M. Bockstoe of West Hartford has been appointed vice president for financial affairs and treasurer of the College.

Bockstoe succeeds J. Kenneth Robertson, Treasurer and Comptroller since 1951, who is retiring. The appointment is effective May 15.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Bockstoe worked for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. (PPG) from 1935 to 1961, serving in the U. S. Army from 1943 to 1946. At PPG he was regional manager of the Merchandising Division, based in Hartford.

In 1961 he joined Putnam and Co. in Hartford, and served as a general partner in that firm and its successor company, Advest.

He is a member of St. John's Church, West Hartford; a trustee of Trinity Church, York Harbor, Maine; assistant treasurer of the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut; a trustee of the Wadsworth Atheneum and the Bushnell Memorial Hall, and a director of Lydall, Inc., and XTRA, Inc.

Bockstoe is a graduate of Haverford College and of the Advanced Management Program, Harvard Business School.

Robertson, a native of Cambridge,

Mass., holds a Ph.B. from Yale and an M.B.A. from Harvard. He has been active in the Eastern Association of College and University Business Officers, has served as Secretary-Treasurer of Scholarships for Illinois Residents, Inc., a scholarship program which brings Illinois students to Trinity, is a former director and treasurer of the Connecticut Student Loan Foundation, and served several years as a director of the University Research Institute of Connecticut.

In his earlier career, Robertson served from 1935 to 1943 with Warner Brothers Theaters, dealing with operations, public relations, and advertising. From 1943 until he joined Trinity in 1951, he was business manager of the Taft School in Watertown.

In making the announcement, President Lockwood said, "Mrs. Robertson has ably served the College as Treasurer for twenty-three years, and it was a difficult assignment to find a successor for him. We are delighted that Mr. Bockstoe will join us this month and bring his experience to bear upon the special problems of endowment analysis, long-range fiscal planning, and the financial resources needed in independent higher education."

CAMPUS NOTES

The Office of Community Life and Student Services will be combined into one office next fall. The new office of the dean of students will be directed by J. Ronald Spencer.

Del A. Shilkret '61, dean of student services, has resigned to become Business Manager at Millbrook School, Millbrook, New York.

In the new combined office, Ellen Mulqueen will be dean of student services, David Lee will be associate dean of student services, Mohammed Jibrell will be assistant dean of students and Elinor Tilles, part-time administrator, will take a full-time position and become assistant dean for college residences. Terry Costelloe will retain her position as master calendar coordinator.

Dr. Randolph M. Lee '66 has been promoted to associate college counselor effective July 1. Lee is also assistant professor of psychology.

Lee received an M. S. and Ph.D. from the University of Massachusetts in 1969 and 1970 respectively. While at the University of Massachusetts, he was a clinical and research assistant at the counseling center for the University and the Child Guidance Center in Amherst, Mass.

Lee is co-author of an article on counseling services in Canadian universities which appeared in the Journal of the Council of the Association

Dr. Crawford

Dr. Howard

2 Men Named Full Professors

Two members of the Trinity College faculty have been promoted to the rank of full professor.

They are Dr. Richard B. Crawford, associate professor of biology, and Dr. Albert J. Howard Jr., associate professor of physics.

The promotions to full professor are effective September 1.

Dr. Crawford, a native of Kalamazoo, Mich., joined the Trinity faculty in 1967. He holds a bachelor's degree from Kalamazoo College, a Ph.D. in biochemistry from the University of Rochester, where he was a graduate fellow and postdoctoral fellow.

From 1959, until his appointment at Trinity, he taught at the University of Pennsylvania's School of dental medicine.

He has written or co-authored 23 articles in professional journals, presented a dozen invited lectures, and is a member of the American Chemical Society, the Philadelphia Biochemists Club, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Association of University Professors, the American Society of Zoologists, and the Mt. Desert Island Biological Laboratory (Salisbury, Maine), of which he is associate director, senior investigator and corporator.

In 1967 Dr. Crawford was recipient of a National Science Foundation grant to study the chemical processes that influence cell changes in the embryo. He has also received research grants from the American Cancer Society and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Dr. Howard, a native of New Haven, holds B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees in physics from Yale University. He joined the Trinity faculty in 1962 and has taught, as a visiting associate, at Yale University and at the California Institute of Technology.

A nuclear physicist, Dr. Howard has coauthored 22 articles published in professional journals.

of University Student Personnel Services and an article on client training prior to counseling which appeared in the "Canadian Counselor." He has been involved in two research grants from the Connecticut Commission on Aid to Higher Education.

Lee is treasurer of the Connecticut Psychological Association and is a member of the American Psychological Association, the Association for the Advancement of Psychology, the Eastern Psychological Association, the New England Psychological Association and the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues.

Dr. Ranbir Vohra, associate professor of political science and chairman of the department, has written two recently published books dealing with China.

Dr. Vohra, a specialist on East Asia, is the author of "Lao-She and the Chinese Revolution," a study of an important Chinese writer, published by Harvard University Press, and is the editor of an anthology "The Chinese Revolution: 1900 to 1950," published by Houghton Mifflin.

Lao-She, who visited the United States for three years following the end of World War II, committed suicide in 1966 in protest of the Chinese Red Guards and their "Cultural Revolution."

The anthology highlights important phases of the revolutionary process in modern China. In addition to providing a bibliography, Dr. Vohra wrote notes and edited the various articles dealing with the preparation for the Chinese Revolution, the nature of the revolution, and the rise of the Chinese Communist Party.

Thomas A. Smith, vice president, and Edwin P. Nye, dean of the faculty, were participants at a conference on environmental sciences sponsored by University Research Institute of Connecticut (URIC) held in April. The theme of the conference was "Connecticut Energy Situation" and Nye, who is URIC Chairman, was host for the conference. Smith moderated a session on "Solving Connecticut's Energy Problems."

Robert A. Cale, artist-in-residence, has been awarded a grant of $2,500 by the Connecticut Commission on the Arts to set up an etching studio and printmaking workshop. The grant will enable Cale, who is a printmaker, to open "The Stonington (Conn.) Workshop" where Cale will offer beginning and advanced classes in printmaking at minimal cost, open printshop facilities to area artists for a nominal fee and train printers selected from the workshop participants.

Dr. Robert B. Oxnam has been promoted to associate professor of history effective September 1. He joined the Trinity faculty in September, 1969, as assistant professor of history.

Oxnam is a 1964 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Williams College and received an M.A. and Ph.D. in 1966 and 1969 respectively from Yale University.

From 1971 to 1973, he served part-time as special assistant to the President and as director of the Individualized Degree Program, which involved him in long-range planning efforts for Trinity.

Alumni Shown 'Trinity in Action'

A group of alumni got to see "Trinity in Action" for three days in late April. More than 200 students and 50 faculty and administrators helped to show the returning alumni what Trinity is like today. They were introduced to the curriculum, new academic options, athletics, the arts, and new teaching techniques, among other things.

"Trinity in Action" was held at the suggestion of the executive committee of the Alumni Association. One alumnus who participated said he "learned more about Trinity in a short span than I have in the preceding 20 years."

Mrs. Constance Ware, chairman, said she hoped the program would be continued "so that many more alumni will have an opportunity to see the College 'in action' this way."

An authority on modern Chinese history, Oxnam teaches both Chinese and Japanese history at the College. The author of "History and Simulation: The Ch'ing Game" and biographies on Ch'in China in "The Encyclopedia of World Biography," Oxnam is presently writing "The Oboi Regency 1661-69," a book on politics in seventeenth-century China.

He is a member of the Association for Asian Studies, Committee of Concerned Asian Scholars, Committee on U. S.-China Relations and the Modern China Seminar at Harvard University.

HONORED -- With the traditional reception, the College honored those retiring or having reached 25 years of service. Left to right, The Rev. Thomas Devonshire Jones who has served for the past year as English Exchange Chaplain; Joseph T. Schilling, assistant to the treasurer, retiring after 16 years; J. Kenneth Robertson, treasurer and comptroller, retiring after 23 years; Mary Lee Curry, secretary to the dean for student services, honored for 25 years of service; and President Lockwood.

AUDITORIUM NAMED -- Members of the late Francis Boyer's family were present at the dedication of the Francis Boyer Auditorium in the Albert C. Jacobs Life Sciences Center on May 8. With President Lockwood are Mrs. Boyer and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Godfrey of Villanova, Pa.

Painter Appointed History Chairman

Dr. Borden W. Painter, Jr., associate professor of history, has been appointed chairman of the history department effective July 1, 1974. He succeeds Dr. George B. Cooper, who held the chairmanship since 1964.

Dr. Painter, who came to Trinity in 1964, is a 1958 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Trinity and was a 1958-1959 Woodrow Wilson Fellow. He received an M. A. in 1960 and a Ph.D. in 1965 from Yale. He also holds an S.T.B. degree from General Theological Seminary.

Dr. Painter was ordained a priest in the Episcopal Church in 1963 and currently assists at St. James Episcopal Church in Farmington.

He was a member of the faculty of the Trinity College Rome Campus in 1971 and has been appointed director of the summer program in Rome for 1974.

He is a member of the American Historical Association, the New England Historical Association and the Conference on British Studies.

TRINITY REPORTER

May, 1974

Vol. 4, No. 7

Issued nine times a year in October, November, December, January, February, March, April, May, and June. Published by the Office of Public Information, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. 06106. Second class postage paid at Hartford, Connecticut.

THE REPORTER is mailed to alumni, parents, faculty, staff and friends of Trinity. Copies are available to students. There is no charge.

Letters for publication must be no longer than 200 words and signed. The printing of any letter is at the discretion of the Editor and may be edited for brevity, not substance.

Editor, L. Barton Wilson '37; Associate Editor, Alfred C. Burfeind '64; Assistant Editor, Milli Silvestri; Sports Information, Daniel P. Russo '73; Photographer, David R. Lowe; Alumni Secretary, John L. Heyl '66.

Jester's Story is a Rags-to-Riches Tale

(Continued from Page 1)

Talking," by Anita Loos, and "Wedding Bells," by Salisbury Fields.

The Jesters always had a faculty advisor willing to serve as dramatic coach. In 1902, Henry Augustus Perkins became professor of physics; his wife, who had had a brief career on the professional stage, supervised the Jesters until about 1919. Other people served as advisors until 1946. Then, according to Dr. Michael Campo, a student at the time and today professor of modern languages and literatures and director of the Trinity/Rome Campus, arrived the "Golden Age of the Jesters"—along with several veterans of the Second World War who were eager to take on challenging roles and experiment with the theatre.

Advised and directed by Dr. Bard McNulty, the Jesters rehearsed in the top floor of Seabury. They expanded from the traditional presentation of a tragedy in the fall and a comedy in the spring to the avant-garde. In the fall of 1946, "Golden Boy" was produced, with Michael Campo playing the role of the old Italian father and Ken Wynne as Eddie Fuselli, the young boxer. In the spring of 1947, "Jacobowsky and the Colonel," about the French Resistance in World War II, was presented at the Avery Memorial Theatre. Michael Campo played Jacobowsky and Moo Johnquest was the German Colonel. One Jester had a pilot's

THE TEENS -- In "Tom Moore," a four-act play produced by the Jesters in 1915, the female roles were played by women. The review of the play in the 1916 Ivy stated, "The feminine characters are by far the most difficult to judge correctly, for they were all so charming and altogether delightful that any description is sure to fall far short of the reality. The playing of their parts was as delicate as it was discerning."

first play produced was "The Male Animal," and its author, James Thurber, came to a performance. Afterwards, according to Dr. Campo, Thurber wheezed up the rickety stairs to the dressing room, and, still puffing, told the Jesters, "I wouldn't even do this for Elliott Nugent." (Nugent was the coauthor of the play.) He also told them that they had done a great job.

During the next school year, the Jesters produced "Dear Ruth," "Masque of Kings," and "Men in White" under Don Craig, their first student director.

The Pitchfork Playhouse was continued in the summer of 1948, with Mike Kellin, today a professional actor, replacing Michael Campo. It still exists

Austin Arts Center opened, and the new Goodwin Theatre became their home.

George Nichols became faculty advisor to the Jesters in 1950. Upon his arrival, Dr. Campo has commented, "The Jesters became professional. They were no longer dilettantish. Professor Nichols provided them with their own leadership, enthusiasm and structure." Many of Shakespeare's plays were performed in those years, along with contemporary comedies and dramas.

In the spring of 1960, several days before the opening of "The Skin of Our Teeth," the fire department inspected Alumni Hall and issued a long list of violations to the College. Trinity's Office of Development, which had been planning an arts center since 1953, announced that a new arts center would be built. In June, the first half-million dollars were pledged by an anonymous donor (later revealed as James Lippincott Goodwin), who later gave an additional $350,000 with the provision that it must be matched from other sources.

The estimated cost of the arts center was $1,500,000 in 1960, but by the time the Austin Arts Center was dedicated on May 15, 1965, its total cost had run to $2,200,000. The music and studio arts departments were located in the Center along with the Jesters. George Nichols was director of the Center from 1965 to 1969, when he became head of the theatre arts department.

With the opening of the Austin Arts Center, the Jesters began to expand. Their first technical director, John Woolley, came to Trinity in 1966, and taught production to interested Jesters. In 1968, Professor Nichols was given permission to hire a second professor and to start the theatre arts department. When David Eliet arrived in the fall of 1969, the major was formally established.

"We offer theatre arts as a major which we think can do as much for a person as other fields, with as much discipline. We don't urge anyone to go into the theatre professionally," Nichols has stated. With the inception of the major, the Lift One-Act Series was introduced (about five one-act plays produced entirely by students each semester) and the number of major productions was increased from three to four, with Eliet and Nichols each directing two during the year.

Since the establishment of the theatre arts department, there have been more opportunities for interested students both at Trinity and through affiliation with other programs. Students can spend a year with the Tufts-in-London program, studying the theatre, or a semester at the O'Neill Theatre in Waterford, Conn., or take an open semester or independent study involving the theatre. With the Lift One-Acts, they can experiment with directing and acting, and develop their general concept of the theatre.

Many students have become involved in the department without being majors.

Its establishment has meant a fairly wide variety of courses on the theatre. Eliet says, "I would like to see the department push harder and develop more, but its gains have been substantial. Our offering is traditional, and it's good."

Last semester, there were three major productions: Anton Chekhov's "The Seagull," directed by Eliet; Shakespeare's "Richard II," directed by Nichols; and Tennessee Williams' "The Night of the Iguana," directed by Len Cowan '74. "Iguana" was the first student-directed major production since the department began. Six one-act plays were also presented.

Cowan chose "Iguana" because it "treads the line between comedy and seriousness. Williams' play gets across the idea that distinctions between fantasy and reality are indeed blurry, and we must not be frightened of one or the other, as they are both components of life itself."

This semester there was one major production, Lanford Wilson's "The Rimers of Eldritch." Directed by Eliet and presented in early March, it was an unconventional dramatization of the murder of an old derelict in a small midwestern town. The play was done in a collage style, in which the plot was gradually revealed through a series of vignettes. All 17 cast members remained on stage throughout the play. The Lift One-Act Series was presented in March and April.

In February of 1973, actresses Eve Collyer and Mildred Dunnock came to Trinity and taught separate workshops on acting and the preparation of scenes. Nichols would like to see the workshops expanded into a program of an artist-in-residence each semester.

While there are always improvements that can be made, most students seem glad that there is an active theatre arts department. Ann Convery '74 says, "The main thing about the theatre arts department is that the spirit down there is incredible. There is no hierarchy. Everybody cooperates; they're happy and dedicated. The kids are amateur only in the respect that they're not paid."

Another senior, Brian McEleney, says, "The great advantage of a liberal arts school like Trinity is that it gives a student chances to work in all aspects of the theatre, more so than in a professional drama school. It also gives students discipline; we can do crazy things but we must do them seriously."

THE SEVENTIES -- The Theatre Arts Department produced Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" in May of 1972, in the Goodwin Theater. From left are Steve Meyer '74 as George Gibbs, Ann Egbert '75 as Emily Webb and Glenn Gustafson '73 as Mr. Webb.

THE FORTIES -- In 1947 the members of the Jesters were, from left to right: (first row) J. H. Schachter; K. Wynne, Jr.; Professor J. B. McNulty; D. W. Craig; P. E. Stokes; J. T. Brush, Jr.; M. R. Campo; (second row) R. S. Neattie; O. F. Gracey; J. F. Straley; B. K. Nicholson; E. F. Albee; R. H. Reid; N. L. Edgar; F. S. Campbell; and D. Reynolds. Albee, who was at Trinity for a year and a half, went on to write "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," "A Delicate Balance," "American Dream," "Zoo Story," and other plays. Other Jesters who have achieved successful careers in various aspects of the theatre include Mike Kellin '43, George Dessart '48, Ed Parone '49, Richard Roat '55, Mark Healy '59, John Toye '59, Lee Kalcheim '60, and Bill Bartman '68.

license, so he flew a plane over Hartford, showering the city with leaflets about the play.

In the summer of 1947, some of the Jesters decided to do their own summer stock. They found a barn in Sharon, Conn., and convinced the Sharon Inn that a playhouse would be just the thing to revive a sagging business. The "Pitchfork Playhouse" was born, and the Jesters found themselves working 18, 20 and 22 hours a day putting the barn in shape, working on publicity, choosing casts, acting and directing. In ten weeks, nine or ten plays were produced, including "The Male Animal," "Dear Ruth," "Out of the Frying Pan," "They Knew What They Wanted," and "Arms and the Man."

The core group in Sharon that summer consisted of Michael Campo, who was the main actor, Donald Craig, the director, George Dessart, the assistant director, and E. Otis Charles, manager of publicity, props and ticket sales. Other Jesters helped out for several shows, but the core group worked at Sharon all summer. The today, although it is no longer run by Trinity students.

From 1947 to 1950, Robert M. Vogel, then assistant professor of English, was director of dramatics for the Jesters. He moved productions from the Avery Memorial Theatre back to Alumni Hall. The original auditorium in Alumni Hall had been destroyed in the 1920's by a fire, so Dr. Vogel and the Jesters built an arena theatre, using the lower floor of the old gym. A series of platforms, 18 inches high and 16 by 32 feet, were constructed in the center of the floor as the stage. The audience sat by three sides of the platforms and curtains were hung on three walls to tone down the gym's atmosphere.

The arena theatre competed with athletic teams and the regular physical education programs in the winter, so that one-acts and full-length plays were produced in Kriebel Auditorium or the Washington Room during the winter months. The Jesters performed in Alumni Hall, however, until 1965, when the

Class Notes

ENGAGEMENTS

1961 ROGER WM. MacMILLAN to Carla Duray
1963 KENNETH D. ALDRICH, JR. to Sharon Cook
1967 CHARLES KURZ II to Candace Baldwin
1971 HAROLD MORSE to Julie Ann Hagerman
MATTHEW THOMAS BIRMINGHAM III to Mary Lynne Trageser
RICHARD JOHN MAZZUTO to Nancy Anne Bruckner '74
1973 DANIEL M. ROSWIG to Ellen Andrea Cohen
DAVID A. KLEIN to Barbara Jean Miller

WEDDINGS

1969 JOHN WINSLOW RICE to Joan Margaret Slavin, March 23, 1974
1973 JONATHAN C. NEUNER to Sherilyn Stearley, October 6, 1973

BIRTHS

1953 Mr. and Mrs. STANLEY McCANDLESS, daughter, Effie Robbe, December 1, 1973
1960 Mr. and Mrs. LAMONT THOMAS, son, Bryon Lamont, February 25, 1974
1966 Mr. and Mrs. MICHAEL V. DAWES, son, Michael V., Jr., March 28, 1974
Mr. and Mrs. JOHN W. LAWSON, son, Christian, March 2, 1974

PARENTS ASSOCIATION OFFICERS - Recently elected officers of the Parents Association are, left to right: Arthur M. Lewis, vice president; Bruce N. Bensley, president; and Mrs. John N. Fisher, secretary.

Lacrosse (Continued from Page 3)

defeat Tufts 5-4. On April 17 the Bants lost a 7-6 squeaker to the Lord Jeffs of Amherst. The 15-9 setback to Bowdoin was much closer than the score indicates. The next four games belonged to Trinity as the offense poured in 53 goals to the opposition's 18. The victories over Fairfield (12-5), New Haven (16-3), M.I.T. (11-4), and Rhode Island (14-6) were all impressive decisions. The 15-13 defeat to Union's Dutchmen can only be described as heartbreaking. Once Union stretched its advantage to 14-11, there was not enough time to make a comeback. Against Middlebury, after an early Trin goal, the Panthers reeled off 11 straight tallies. In the second half the Bants played well, but it was too late in this 12-6 defeat. The Wesleyan game marked the last home appearance for seniors Rip Lincoln, Tom Stevens, Frank Chase, Ron Kaplan, Allan Stark, and Chris Sehring. In the first half, Trin played as well as they had all year, stifling the powerful Cardinals. Nevertheless, the 7-4 lead was not enough to hold off the second half Wesleyan siege as they came back to win 14-9.

1967 Mr. and Mrs. GILBERT G. CAMPBELL, son, Craig Andrew, March 26, 1974
1968 Mr. and Mrs. FRANKLIN H. MOORE, daughter, Natalie Hancock, January 13, 1974
1971 Mr. and Mrs. FREDERICK K. GOODHUE, daughter, Catherine Lynn, March 30, 1974
Mr. and Mrs. Colin Kearns (PATRICIA KEILTY), twin boys, Colin James and Kelly Michael, October 15, 1973

CLARENCE HAHN writes to tell us he is 96 years old. His wife, Edith, died in 1971, but his daughter, Sally H. Bell, age 69 and son, Robert S., age 58, are both alive and well.

MARTIN TAYLOR, who has published three articles on the U. S. Constitution, has recently had an article entitled "The Grand Omission" published in The Record of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Dates to Remember:
PARENTS WEEKEND
November 1 - 2
REUNION/HOMECOMING
November 8 - 10

THEODORE PECK writes that the biggest event in his life recently was his marriage on October 14, 1973 to a lovely silver-haired widow. The marriage took place in Bethlehem Chapel at Washington Cathedral. Between them they have 16 grandchildren. They are both retired and very busy. He says they have reservations for the Immortals banquet.

ED ARMSTRONG has written HAM BARBER, "My retirement took place in stages over a period of time but I have been completely retired for three or four years and am perfectly contented in that status. I look forward to seeing you at the 'Immortals' dinner."

KINGSLAND MCGUFFEY wrote that he had spent some 35 years with the "Bell" system and retired in 1955. Since then he has been associated with an old friend in the real estate business. He sent his regards to any of the boys who might remember him. HERB PRESSY (Dr. Herbert E. P. Pressy) has moved from Maine to 14631 Deerhurst Terrace, Silver Spring, Maryland 20906. He expects to visit Maine in July. The congregation of the chapel at Orr's Island in Maine has invited him to spend the coming summer with them.

VIN POTTER has sold his home in Houston and has bought a house in West Hartford, next door to that of his son. His new address is 30 Mountain View Drive, West Hartford 06107. He plans to take a trip to Yugoslavia, Germany and Belgium with some Houston friends during May. Vin has found some old prints and maps of Hartford and Trinity, some of which he gave the College at the time of our 40th Class Reunion. His latest find is a map of Connecticut which refers to "Washington College." He is also giving the College a print of the original college buildings on the site of the present State Capitol. It shows students sculling on the then Hog River (now the Park River) in front of the College buildings.

SAM NIRENSTEIN writes from Israel that he retired from the active practice of law in the States some years ago and has resided in Jerusalem for the past three years (14 Hakeshet Street, Jerusalem, Israel). He says there is nothing quite like the life in the Holy Land and in Jerusalem. He travels extensively. Last year he visited the continent "Down Under" and Black Africa. This year he expects to leave his new home on May 24th to visit Albania.

Your SECRETARY and his wife visited Portugal last September and October after a short stay in London. We made headquarters in Sintra from which we motored to Lisbon, Cascais, Colares and Coimbra. On this trip we visited the monasteries at Batahla and Alcobaco and the old Roman fortified city of Conimbriga. Some years ago after my retirement, I was made a life member of the American Institute of Consulting Engineers and an emeritus member of the American Institute of Architects. Last winter I was made a Fellow and life member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

FRED HOISINGTON of Montclair, New Jersey is ranked fifth nationally in the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association's men's 75 singles division.

The Class of 2T6 joins with the Class of 3T0 in the sincere hope for Dr. WILLIAM T. BARTO's improvement in Hartford Hospital. As we of 2T6 know, Bill Barto is our own PETIE HOUGH's brother-in-law.

In one of NORM PITCHER's last letters, he writes, "I have not smoked for five years." Wonderful, Norm! Keep up the good work. May others follow your good going.

Classmates will be glad to know it was good to hear from Dottie Pellett, wife of MILTON PELLETT. It's just like hearing from Milt. Thank you, Dottie dear, from the Class of 2T6.

We of '26 extend our sincere and deep sympathy to Mrs. Vera McBurney and family on the passing of our class member ALEX MCBURNEY.

The Rt. Rev. ROBERT GIBSON, JR. has retired after 25 years in the episcopate. At a dinner honoring Bishop Gibson, he was described as a "natural, not an adapted ecumenist."

KARL KOENIG retired from Colgate University last year and, although he seems to be keeping busy with travel, giving illustrated talks to civic groups and doing volunteer work, he says the shift from working to play meant adjustment but he thinks he has made it. He proudly reports eleven grandchildren in all. JOHN ROWLAND writes that he has two lovely grandchildren and a son getting married this fall. He still lives in Chatham, New Jersey but also has a summer home on Long Beach Island, New Jersey. John enjoys Botany Club, sailing and gardening.

The Trinity trip to London last fall included the BILL GRAINGERS, "SPARKY" ADAMS with his son, and your SECRETARY with wife, Lillian. It was so well run and enjoyable that everyone urged more Trin travel.

Dr. DAVID GALINSKY is now spending part of his time expediting the State Welfare medical program.

Response to the first mailing on January 30 to the Class to save September 28 for our 40th has been good. The following hope to be on hand - ARNOLD: BENJAMIN; CIVITTOLO; CRAIG; DAUT; DAY; DAY; DONLEY; HARING; KINGSTON; MASON; ANDY ONDERDONK; REUBER; TUCKER and UHLIG. More details later. Incidentally, Yale 1934 had its 40th last November (1973) instead of this coming June.

New addresses: The Rev. JACK GRENFELL, 612 Fern Street, Hartford, Connecticut, 06107. WARREN F. REUBER, 31 Woodland Street, No. 6L, Hartford, Connecticut, 06105. The Rev. ALFRED B. ROLLINS, 207 Ficker Circle, Hendersonville, North Carolina, 28739.

The HOFF BENJAMINS and the JOHN MASONS saw the DOUG GAYS in Naples, Florida, where the latter have a most attractive apartment.

The STU COWLES have been in Kansas City visiting their daughters and their grandson, Peter. GENE GANE reports the San Diego climate is about the most even of the 48 states, and that an air conditioner is not needed.

DOUG GLADWIN has retired from his insurance business at St. Louis Park, Minnesota and plans to move this spring.

Nancy Liddell sent your secretary a long letter telling about RAY (LIDDELL) who does not believe in writing. Ray had been working at the VA Hospital in Fargo, North Dakota but became ill last fall and has had to retire. They live now at Park East Apartments No. 5-302, Fargo, North Dakota, 58102, and have two children, Raymond, II, a pre-med, and Deborah Morrell, who is married to a cattle rancher in Nevada.

BILL McCORNICK has sold his house in Fairfield, Connecticut, and will move to Brooklin, Maine, this summer, and to New York City in the fall.

The Rev. CURTIS JUNKER is canon to the Bishop of Oklahoma.

ED NIELSEN, who for the last 10 years has been director of international sales for Curtis Circulation Company and most recently for World Publishing Company, and in this capacity has made annual world-trips, says this may sound very glamorous and exciting but by now - even with the most luxurious of first class accommodations - it has become tiring. He has not made an overseas trip this year and says it is doubtful that he will.

HERBERT SCULL writes that his son, Edward, is working in Cooperstown, New York; and his son, Russell, is a sophomore at Otterbein College in Ohio and is interested in an Army career. His wife is on winning bowling team and he got two bucks for being the most improved bowler of the season.

SAM BENJAMIN and his wife have just returned from a cruise to Bermuda on the Sea Venture and had the excitement of being two of the 200 passengers who stayed aboard as the Sea Venture went to rescue the passengers on the Queen Elizabeth II. He said the crew members of the Sea Venture (Norwegians) worked 20 hours straight and did a magnificent job. Sam says it was a very exciting cruise and also that, while in Bermuda, he met his cousin, Peter S. Fish '36.

HERB VINICK is now employed as general manager of the Sealy Mattress Company, Randolph, Massachusetts. Herb reports five grandchildren.

39 Mr. Earl H. Flynn
147 Goodale Dr.
Newington, CT 06111

SUMNER TWISS, who has been president of Chrysler Corporation's chemical division in Trenton, Michigan for the past 15 years, has been appointed vice president for development at the Lawrence Institute of Technology, Southfield, Michigan.

40 Mr. Herbert R. Bland
R. C. Knox & Co.
P.O. Box 930
Hartford, CT 06101

AL HOPKINS and his wife, Jean, will attend Trinity commencement exercises May 26 at which their son, David, will become an alumnus, as did sons Paul '66 and Steve '69.

HERB BLAND has been elected president of the Metropolitan Hartford YMCA.

43 Mr. John L. Bonee
McCook, Kenyon and Bonee
50 State St.
Hartford, CT 06103

JIM CLARKE has become director of development at the Kettering Medical Center, Dayton, Ohio.

At the annual convention of the Diocese of Virginia, ROBERT HALL, bishop coadjutor of Virginia, was installed as head of the diocese.

MIKE KELLIN recently appeared in the play "Joan of Lorraine," in New York City.

JIM MURRAY's syndicated sports column now appears twice weekly in The Hartford Courant.

GERARD BARNABY, who practices orthopedic surgery in Albany, New York, has four children. The oldest girl, Pat, is a junior at Mount Holyoke College; Gerry, Jr. is a freshman at Springfield College; Keith is a senior at Albany Academy and college bound; and Lynn is a 7th grader.

44 Dr. Harry R. Gossling
558 Simsbury Rd.
Bloomfield, CT 06002

EARLE EPPS recently moved to Albany, New York where he accepted a temporary appointment as an assistant professor of anesthesiology, and will return to private practice in Lakeland, Florida this coming September. Earle, who celebrated his 24th wedding anniversary on April 1st, has a son, Douglas, age 22, who just graduated from the University of South Florida with a major in cinematography; a daughter, Cindy, age 20, who is a sophomore majoring in art at Russell Sage College, Troy, New York; and a daughter, Connie, who is a senior at the Academy of Holy Names School in Albany, New York.

45 Mr. Andrew W. Milligan
15 Winterset Lane
West Hartford, CT 06117

FRASER DREW is one of the first nine professors in the 72-campus State University of New York system to be promoted to the newly established rank of distinguished teaching professor. His book, "John Masefield's England," was published last year by the Fairleigh Dickinson University Press.

46 Mr. J. William Vincent
80 Newport Avenue
West Hartford, CT 06107

ALEXANDER GOLDFARB, Hartford's corporation counsel, recently spoke to the Trinity Club of Hartford on "The Role of the Public Lawyer."

47 Paul J. Kingston, M.D.
27 Walbridge Road
West Hartford, CT 06119

BING HALSEY is employed as division manager of Greige and Contract Finishing, (textiles), Russell Corporation, New York City. Bing is also a member of A.T.M.I. and American Arbitration Council. He has three children - Holly Ann, a sophomore at Scarsdale (New York) High School; Douglas D., graduating this year with honors from Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana and going on to law school; and Karen N., receiving her Masters from Manhattanville this May. Bing says "for a change (and some change) let's beat Williams next year."

JIM MELLOR of Wachusett, Massachusetts has been promoted to second vice president, group secretary and assistant treasurer of The Paul Revere Life Insurance Company, Worcester, Massachusetts.

48 The Rev. E. Otis Charles
231 East First South St.
Salt Lake City, Utah 84111

RAY BARNES is the Lexington, Massachusetts celebration committee chairman for their Bicentennial.

49 Mr. Charles I. Tenney
Charles I. Tenney & Associates
2 Bryn Mawr Ave.
Bryn Mawr, PA 19010

ALLEN BRAY III has accepted an appointment as headmaster of Christ Church Episcopal School in Greenville, South Carolina. He will finish the current academic year as rector and headmaster of The Bishop Whipple Schools - Shattuck/Saint Mary's/Saint James - in Faribault, Minnesota.

50 Mr. James R. Glasco, Jr.
Aetna Life Ins. Company
151 Farmington Ave.
Hartford, CT 06105

RAY SNOW has been named to the newly created position of marketing manager for Fafnir Bearing Company, New Britain, Connecticut.

WALTER SULLIVAN has been appointed a senior vice president and trust officer of the Fidelity Trust Company in Stamford, Connecticut where he heads the bank's trust department.

SCOTT BILLYOU writes that he and his wife, Ruth, attended the recent ordination of Bishop ROBERT S. KERR '40, which was very festive and colorful in the New Burlington, Vermont cathedral. Scott says that other Trinity alumni on hand were Fr. GEORGE SMITH '39, rector of St. Matthew's in Worcester, Massachusetts, and Bishop J. WARREN HUTCHENS, Honorary '62.

51 Mr. John F. Klingler
344 Fern St.
West Hartford, CT 06119

KINGSTON HOWARD is chairman of the Lexington, Massachusetts Bicentennial celebration.

FRED PROSE, who practices dentistry in Rockville, Connecticut, has been named a member of the Vernon National Bank advisory board.

52 Mr. Douglas C. Lee
51 Wood Pond Rd.
West Hartford, CT 06107

JOE MOREHEAD, professor of library and information science at SUNY, Albany, New York, writes that he and his wife, Bebe, are the proud parents of a son, Adam Gray. Joe is completing a book on "United States Public Documents" which is to be published by the American Library Association in early 1975.

WALLACE BARRETT has been elected a director of the international insurance brokerage firm of Davis Dorland & Company, New York.

JOHN WIBERG, associate professor in the department of radiation biology and biophysics at the University of Rochester (N.Y.) School of Medicine, is teaching and doing biochemical-genetic research on DNA metabolism and on regulation of protein synthesis by bacterial viruses. John is on the editorial board of the "Journal of Virology" and last summer presented a paper at the Ninth International Congress of Biochemistry in Stockholm. His wife, Elsie, and he enjoyed a great tour of Europe at that time. Their oldest child, Kristina, is a sophomore at Ithaca College and is studying music.

REID SHAW is still president of General Electric Broadcasting Company and General Electric Cablevision Corporation, Schenectady, New York. He says that son, Mike, is a sophomore at Syracuse University, daughter, Gayle, is completing freshman year at Colby College, and sons Steve and Andy are freshman in high school and second grader respectively.

54 Mr. Theodore T. Tansi
Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co.
1 American Row
Hartford, CT 06103

HARTLEY SMITH is a surgeon at Salem, Massachusetts Hospital and also associate chief of surgery at North Shore Children's Hospital, Salem, Massachusetts. He writes that he won a few cups racing his Ensign sailboat in Marblehead in 1973.

JOHN CRAIG, who is vice president and executive editor of the Morning News and the Evening Journal in Wilmington, Delaware, has received a great deal of protest over the hiring of a convicted murderer as a columnist in an attempt to focus public attention on the problems of crime and corrections.

55 Mr. E. Wade Close, Jr.
200 Hunter's Trace Lane
Atlanta, Georgia 30328

DICK KOPP writes he is still with IBM and currently is working in New York City, upgrading the New York City Police Department emergency patrol car dispatching system. Dick has been scoutmaster of a troop in Chester, New Jersey for the past three years and last summer took the troop to the National Jamboree in Pennsylvania.

DAVID HOAG is now in charge of the two Episcopal parishes in Pelham, New York which are being consolidated into one, with two buildings - Christ Church and the Church of the Redeemer and now called the Parish of Christ the Redeemer.

JOHN NEWLIN writes that he is the owner of two travel agencies, one on Madison Avenue, New York City and the other in Guayaquil, Ecuador. John says he travels extensively and his family spends summers in the the South of France.

56 Mr. Edward A. Montgomery, Jr.
Backbone Rd.
Sewickley Heights, PA 15143

RODNEY SMITH recently joined the Church Pension Fund and Affiliates as administrative vice president in their head office in New York City.

57 Paul B. Marion
7 Martin Place
Chatham, New Jersey 07928

LAIRD MORTIMER writes from Elmwood, Connecticut that he continues as president of Periodical Corporation, a printing firm turning out various books and publications. Laird, you ought to ask WARD JUST for an exclusive.

Any of you classmates having trouble hearing, smelling, or talking should contact ear, nose and throat specialist MANNY MEYERSON in West Hartford, who was recently elected to the American College of Surgeons.

BILL MORRISON, a member of the headquarters staff of Westinghouse, writes from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania that he and his wife, Carol, are very active attending Penguin hockey games, Pitt football, and membership in the Pittsburgh Council for International Visitors.

ALUMNI GATHERING IN PALM BEACH - Top, left to right, Tom Cary '33, Don Puffer '20, Jim Fyfe '55 and Stephen Bonifazi '47. Bottom, left to right, President Lockwood, Mrs. William P. Gwinn, Mrs. Lockwood, and Mr. Gwinn, a Charter Trustee of the College. Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn were hosts at the gathering.

DWIGHT OARR, the happy organist from the department of music of Wells College, Aurora, New York, continues on his concert tour with upcoming organ recitals at the Church of the Ascension, Rochester, New York, May 6, and the Music Hall, Methuen, Massachusetts, Aug. 21.

NORMAND RICHARD, the father of three, is data processing director for Conning & Co., Hartford, Connecticut.

GEORGE CASE has just been appointed secretary, individual insurance operations, at Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, Hartford.

HUGH MCCracken has been promoted to lieutenant colonel and his present job is chief of training for the 374th tactical airlift wing, Clark Air Base in the Philippines. He says that for the first time in years he has run into a Trinity alumnus who is Air Force - Lt. MARK MACOMBER '71, who is also a pilot with the 374th wing.

NORM KAYSER has received the "Associate in Risk Management" designation from the Insurance Institute of America.

58 Mr. Borden W. Painter, Jr.
110 Ledgewood Rd.
West Hartford, CT 06107

DAVID MOORE and his wife, Adrienne, now have their first son, Daniel, who is the apple of their eyes. Dave is currently an associate member of the technical staff, Bell Laboratories' business information systems division in New Jersey. His work concerns personnel subsystem design and development.

GEORGE BAXTER writes he is representing the business interests in Washington, D. C. of A. G. Becker & Co., Inc., New York City. He says a "reunion" is being planned soon in D. C. for the many Trinity alumni including JIM GLASSCO '48, DICK ABBOTT '56, TED CASS '58, and TIM TEMPLE '58.

FRANCIS CREAMER reports he is now rector of St. Andrew's Church, New London, New Hampshire, chaplain at Colby College, and a member of Colby's Department of Philosophy and Religion. Francis is also chairman of the commission of christian social relations of the Diocese of New Hampshire. His wife, Ann, has gone back to college to work for a graduate degree and his children are Elizabeth, who is in the third grade, and Nathaniel, who is in kindergarten.

59 Mr. Paul S. Campion
4 Red Oak Dr.
Rye, New York 10580

DONG KINGMAN, who launched and edited the newsletter for the broadcasting, recording and publishing activities of CBS, Inc., New York City, has left that post to start an employee publication for Marsh & McLennan, Inc., New York City, the insurance brokerage concern and principal subsidiary of Marlennan Corporation. Dong recently created his fifteenth album cover for Composers Recordings, Inc.

ISRAEL STEIN writes that he will assume the pulpit of Congregation Rodeph Shalom, Bridgeport, Connecticut, on August 1st, after a six year ministry in Bayside, New York.

DICK JAFFEE recently sold his company, Sci-Tex North America, in Stamford, Connecticut and has just been elected vice president of Camsco, Inc., 1200 North Bowser, Richardson, Texas. Dick will be moving his family to Texas on May 1st. A new addition to the family, a daughter, Marisa Lyn, arrived last May.

DAVID CHICHESTER has been appointed director of dental claims at Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, Hartford.

HOWARD HILL, a master agent with Equitable Life Insurance Company, New York City, was a recent national champion for their national sales campaign. Howard reports he has a charming wife and a four and a half year-old daughter.

60 Mr. Robert C. Langen
2 Sachems Trail
West Simsbury, CT 06092

STEVE LAZARUS has authored the second edition of "Self-Assessment of Current Knowledge in Urology," over 1100 multiple choice questions for review purposes. Steve is living in Queens, New York and working in Queens and Brooklyn.

ALLEN SCHNEIDER, professor of psychology at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, recently presented a colloquium at Fairfield (Connecticut) University on the topic "The Immortality of Memory."

DICK BOWDAN of Woodbury, Connecticut has been elected an assistant cashier of the Connecticut National Bank and named manager of the credit department.

61 Mr. Del A. Shilkret
40 Meryl Rd.
So. Windsor, CT 06074

ROGER MacMILLAN writes he has decided to stay in Boston as an associate in surgery and, beginning in July, will be attending surgeon at Babies Hospital. Roger will marry Carla Duray, a native of Saratoga, New York, whom he met in Boston two years ago and is "one happy guy." He says Carla has her Masters in learning disorders, so no wonder he will marry her.

GUY DOVE has been serving as a financial consultant for the Federal Energy Office since February.

JOHN KORETZ is with Coopers & Lybrand (one of the "Big 8" auditing firms), Chicago, Illinois, where he is a director in the management consulting division. He is responsible for a group of consultants who provide data processing consulting services in an area bounded approximately by Chicago and Denver, Canada and the Gulf. John finds the consulting business to be extremely rewarding and challenging and the travel, tolerable. John, his wife, Carol, and two children, Jim, age 10, and Leslie Ann, age 7, are still living in Winnetka, Illinois.

GEORGE PARE has been promoted to vice president of the Connecticut Bank & Trust Company, Hartford.

DALE PEATMAN of Weston, Massachusetts has been named "Agency Man of the Year" for the Boston-Broderick Agency of Mutual of New York.

62 Mr. Barnett Lipkind
8 Union Ave., E-5
Norwalk, CT 06851

BILL POLK writes that he has bought a house in Chester, Nova Scotia.

TED HAGEMAN has been promoted to vice president at the Hartford National Bank and Trust Company, Hartford.

BILL TURNER says he is still with Chemical Bank, New York City, but has recently been transferred from the metropolitan division to international and is now in charge of Middle East/African territory. His wife, Judy, the boys (Andrew, 5, Chris, 9) and he will be spending the summer in Beirut, where Chemical owns a bank, but they will then return to New York City.

GEORGE RAYMOND has been made chairman of the Department of Psychology at Providence College, where he has been an associate professor for the last two years. George says he is moving to 72 Keene Street, Providence, Rhode Island on June 15th and to a grand old ugly victorian house.

JIM WHITTERS has been named a director of Associated Day Care Services of Metropolitan Boston. Jim is also chairman of the lawyers' committee for Michael Dukakis' campaign for governor of Massachusetts.

HARTFORD PHONATHON -- Students joined alumni to help with a phonathon in greater Hartford that raised about $18,000 for the Alumni Fund over four evenings May 6-9. Shown in the picture here are seniors Deborah L. Root left, Harry Heller and Elizabeth R. Grady. Others who helped out were Rebecca Adams, Michael Chearneyi, Elizabeth Ross, Edward Faneuil, Amy Tenney and Karen Tucker. The student team raised about $3,000 for one night's telephoning, May 7.

63 Mr. Timothy F. Lenicheck
152 Willow Avenue
Somerville, MA 02144

SCOTT REYNOLDS has been promoted to vice president, Bankers Trust Company, New York City and his work is primarily in the area of liability management.

Your SECRETARY had lunch with SANDY CREIGHTON recently and learned he is very pleased with his job with Cabot, Cabot and Forbes, a major commercial real estate developer headquartered in Boston. Sandy is now coordinating a project in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

SAM WINNER, M.D., reports he is still highly motivated, overworked and single.

JOHN KENT is working for a small company which deals with problems of the elderly, consulting with cities and city government. Recently, he spent a few days in Chicago with Mayor Daley's staff.

JOHN RICHARDSON reports the recent addition of a son, Mark. John is still with Putnam Trust Company in Greenwich, Connecticut.

EMMETT MILLER, M. D. sent me a very nice letter encouraging any and all to drop in on him for a mind-blowing time at the Essalen Institute in California.

ED TRICKETT provided the entertainment at the New York alumni dinner in March. Ed has the second semester off from teaching at Yale and may be doing more music.

DICK CHANG is rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church in Kapaa, Hawaii. Dick has been there for four years and loves it. He says mainland people continually drop in.

JOHN SIMZIK is living in New York City and taking C.P.A. exams.

ANDY LEWIS has a new job with Gooding Rubber Company in Pittsburgh and has moved to a 90-acre, 100-year-old farm just outside of Pittsburgh. Andy's new residence address is 376 Church Hill Road, Venetia, Pennsylvania, 15367.

TOM SMITH received his Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Colorado and is now working as a staff researcher for the sociology department at Colorado. He was recently in New England on business and had a chance to visit with some of his classmates. Tom's new address is 740 Hawthorne, Boulder, Colorado, 80302.

ELI KARSAN is special agent for Northwestern Mutual Life in Springfield, Massachusetts, and doing exceptionally well. Eli now lives at 90 Pilgrim Road, Springfield, Massachusetts.

64 Mr. Beverly N. Coiner
150 Katherine Court
San Antonio, TX 78209

BILL MINOT has been made a general partner of Advest Company, Boston, Massachusetts. His work will consist of the expansion of institutional sales and marketing throughout the United States and abroad.

JEROME LUTIN has been appointed a lecturer in architecture and urban planning at Princeton University. In the School of Architecture, he teaches architectural design to fourth year students and in the Department of Civil Engineering, he is engaged in research on transportation planning - primarily computer analysis of travel demand.

65 Mr. David J. Graybill
2803 Brightwood Ave.
Nashville, TN 37212

RAYMOND LYNCH is now working for the George M. Ewing Company in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

66 Dr. Randolph Lee
Office of College Counseling
Trinity College
Hartford, CT 06106

CARY JACKSON is an assistant treasurer in the petroleum division of Chase Manhattan Bank, New York City. Six months ago, Cary returned from Chase's branch operations in London where he served as an instructor of foreign trainees.

67 Mr. Thomas L. Safran
3333 West 2nd St.
Building 56 - Apt. 202
Los Angeles, CA 90004

CHARLEY KURZ has replaced CAL WICK as our Class Agent. Our thanks to you, Cal, for all your hard work.

For those of you who haven't yet heard from Charley and/or haven't yet contributed to the Alumni Fund, I'd like to urge you to do so. Last year only 31% of our class participated, giving $4400. This year we hope to raise $5,000 and have a higher percentage participate. I'm sure you all know about the financial crisis facing private colleges today. Unless we all help, Trinity won't be able to remain the outstanding institution it is today.

As for Charley, he is associated with his family's Philadelphia Shipping Company (Keystone) and has been in Russia conducting business and out on the West Coast recently launching ships. But his big news, as Charley wrote in a recent letter, is that he "weakened to a new love and is at last engaged" to Candace Baldwin, a Cornell graduate and a resident of Philadelphia. If you want to "streak" their wedding, they're planning to be married on Sunday, June 9th at 4:00 p.m. at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Whitemarsh, Pennsylvania.

RICH CHARNEY wrote saying he was inspired by my November 1973 column. How wonderful! How about some more inspirations. Anyway, Rich has completed three years as a physician at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital emergency room/family practice clinic, where he started as a lieutenant and will finish as a lieutenant commander. From there it's one year of general surgical residency and then three years of urology residency at Arlington Hospital, Arlington, Pennsylvania, and Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia, respectively. Rich is married to Susan Reall Hersch of Philadelphia and they have a 3½ year old daughter, Tami, and another child coming in August.

Two more of our classmates, who are also doctors, sent letters from different parts of the continent where they're serving in the Navy. PAUL SCHEINBERG wrote from Pensacola, Florida where he received his "Flight Surgeon Wings" and, since January, has been working for a Marine Helicopter Squadron in Norfolk, Virginia. Paul's address is Dr. Paul Scheinberg, Lt. MC. USNR, HMC - 12, NAS-Norfolk, Virginia.

Way up north in Argentia, Newfoundland is PHIL MAYER, his wife, Florence, and their 1½ year old son, Jed. Phil interrupted his surgical residence at Medical College of Virginia to serve as a GP on the naval base. He has frequent free time which he uses for the inimitable bagpipe (Phil is working to establish Newfoundland's first bagpipe band) and camping, hiking, fishing and occasional biking. Phil commented that he finds the natives "quite friendly, although their life is rugged with much labor, minimal income, large families and, unfortunately, American prices."

Phil also reported that RIC CATONI is alive and well in New Orleans and, in spite of the energy crisis, still employed by Delta Airlines as a co-pilot. JIM McCULLOCH is in Omaha, Nebraska finishing his family practice residency at University of Nebraska Hospital. Jim is due to go into the Air Force in June.

We have a budding star in our midst, KEVIN DALY has made show business his career. After studying for two years under Philip Burton at the American Academy of Music and Drama in New York, Kevin appeared on Broadway in "Show Me Where the Good Times Are." He then got the juvenile lead as Nanette's boyfriend, Tom, in "No, No Nanette." Recently Kev appeared at the Candy Club in Manhattan. Right now I guess he's "between performances" so if you have any movie offers, record contracts or Broadway roles, you can contact him at 581 West 48th Street in New York City.

Also in show business, but from behind the camera, is BOB EBINGER who's out here in Los Angeles making films. Bob was recently married to Jacque Frantz and they've moved to a house in the Silver Lake District of Los Angeles at 2116 Apex Street.

Word from STEWART BARNES is that he is now minister to the Sunday evening congregation at Trinity Church, Copley Square, Boston, Massachusetts.

GILBERT CAMPBELL says his work in the trust department of New England Life in Boston continues to be interesting and challenging. His outside activities include serving in the Elders Q'vorum Presidency of the Mormon Church in Weston, Massachusetts.

Once again, in closing I must remind you that without your cards and letters there can be no column.

68 Mr. Joseph L. Reinhardt
208 Caroline St., Apt. 178
Cape Canaveral, FL 32920

JOE RUSSO and his wife, Sue, who have been living in Dedham and Oyster Harbor, Massachusetts the last three years, will be moving to the Hartford area soon where Joe will be a brand management trainee at Heublein International in Farmington, Connecticut.

FRED McCLURE received his law degree in 1973 and expects to receive his LL.M in taxation from the Graduate Tax Program, Boston University Law School this June. He is presently living in Providence, Rhode Island with his wife and two and a half year-old daughter, and plans to commence work with the law firm of Hinckley, Allen, Salisbury & Parsons, Providence, Rhode Island, upon graduation.

KEN PAVEL is now living and working in New Jersey.

Since leaving Trinity, JOHN WHITFORD has done graduate work both in England and at McGill University in Montreal. He also received a Master's degree in education from the University of Rhode Island in 1973 and is presently teaching in the public school system in Rhode Island.

69 Mr. Frederick A. Vyn
10 Tomac Ave.
Old Greenwich, CT 06870

BILL CORDNER writes he is winding up his first year at the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth College. This summer he plans to intern with Arthur Andersen and Company in Hartford.

DICK WELTON will graduate from St. Louis University Medical School on May 11th and will begin a straight medicine internship as a captain in the U. S. Army at Madigan Army Medical Center, Tacoma, Washington as of July 1st. Dick married Mary Ann Fries last June 26th.

PETER EHRENBERG and his wife, Eve, are the proud parents of their first child, a son, Stephen Joshua, born on December 13, 1973.

ED DOYLE writes that he graduated from Fordham Law School last June and had served as editor of the Fordham Law Review his senior year. He recently passed the New York State Bar examination and is now working for the law firm of his father, Charles E. Doyle, Jr., in Peekskill, New York.

70 Mr. Peter N. Campell
350 Earlston Dr., N.E.
Atlanta, GA 30328

RICHARD WYLAND was ordained as a priest in the Episcopal Church on April 20th in Rochester, New York. Dick will return to Trinity-Pawling School, Pawling, New York.

PATTERSON SIMS has been working for almost five years as assistant director of O. K. Harris Works of Art in New York City, managing this gallery of contemporary painting, sculpture and photography, and 20th and 19th century decorative arts. He is married to Drayton Grant, who, he says, is two-thirds of a lawyer, and they live in "rent-control splendor" on East 81st Street, New York City.

TOM LOM is currently an account executive at Compton Advertising, Inc., New York, working on a Proctor & Gamble brand. He says he lives in Manhattan and enjoys life in The City.

Rev. DAVID ANGELICA was a speaker for Saint Luke's (Stamford, Connecticut) Lenten series. He is a doctoral candidate at New York University with his area of specialization "Pastoral and Psychiatric Counseling."

CHRIS KAPILLA writes that he recently qualified as a teacher of transcendental meditation following three months study in Vittal, France.

BOB CAINE expects to receive his M.D. degree from Yale in May and will be a medical intern at The Queen's Medical Center, Honolulu, Hawaii, next year.

71 Miss Arlene A. Forastiere
76 Rolling Hills Rd.
Thornwood, NY 10594

FRED GOODHUE received a master of public administration degree from the University of New Hampshire in January. He is now working for the State of New York as a public administration intern in the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene in Albany.

PAUL SMYTH writes that beginning in August 1974 he will be working as a legal clerk for the Hon. Paul Merlin, an administrative law judge with the Office of Hearings & Appeals in the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

BILL TINGLEY is president of Hot Commodities Company, a firewood supply firm in Rhode Island, and is part owner of a finca outside of Cartago in Colombia, South America.

BEVERLY DIAMOND MAYR and her husband, Kurt, proudly announce the birth of their second child, Kardine Anne. Beverly is working on her Masters at Salem State and hopes to find a part-time teaching job on the community college level.

72 Mr. Jeffrey Kupperman
5521 South Galvez
New Orleans, Louisiana 70125

JOHN KILEY is presently in New Zealand after sailing the 30 foot ketch "Josepha" from Cape Cod. He left in October 1973, making calls in the Caribbean, Panama, and South Pacific Islands. John is now designing ocean sailboats in Auckland.

CYNDIE MELCHER writes she sees Lindy Heso (exchange student '72) off and on; Lindy works for Knopf Publishers.

JOSE LUIS MIRANDA was recently appointed supervisor of elementary education with the New York State Education Department in the newly created office of Urban School Services at the World Trade Center. Jose is in charge of all programs for the language handicapped children in the city's five boroughs.

CHARLES SHAW has spent this academic year as reading consultant at Kent School, Kent, Connecticut and plans to do so again next year.

ALAN LOUGHNAN, who is a second year student at Yale Law School, has just been elected article and book review editor of Law Journal. He will be working in New York City for a law firm this summer.

After working for two years as a carpenter, BOB LAWRENCE is now setting up his own business as a builder. He plans to go where the work is and some future projects lined up are building a barn on Cape Cod this spring, and an addition and remodeling of an old farmhouse in Franconia, New Hampshire this coming summer and fall.

An exhibit of paintings by Montclair, New Jersey Community Hospital employee, RAJA CHANGEZ SULTAN, is currently on display at the hospital.

73 Mr. Lawrence M. Garber
c/o BSF, Box 428
Bassaterre, St. Kitts, West Indies

JONATHAN STEVENS writes that after a summer as a baseball counselor at Camp Winona in the beautiful woods of Bridgeton, Maine, he is presently a Vista Volunteer in the Connecticut Department of Correction, working to "stamp out criminality."

KENT HOWARD says if anyone wants to rent a cottage, chalet or condominium, call him! He is now rental manager for a resort/vacation community on Moose Pond in western central Maine. Kent is currently attending the University of Maine/Portland, studying real estate law.

CHRIS REYNOLDS has a new apartment in New Haven, Connecticut and is working for a commercial artist. Last summer she was the arts and crafts director at Camp Woodstock, Connecticut.

JOEL STROGOFF is teaching at Worcester Academy. He is an instructor in history and urban affairs and has been coaching both soccer and basketball. This spring will see him coaching J. V. tennis. Joel recently married Barbara Sigel and they are living in Worcester, Massachusetts.

JONATHAN NEUNER is working at Hartford National Bank, retail business department (installment loans and Master Charge), after spending last summer on a management training program. Jonathan was married October 6, 1973 to Sheralyn Stearley.

GEORGE BALDWIN and Eleanor M. Pratt '74 were married on August 18, 1973. They are now living in Charlottesville, Virginia where George is attending graduate school.

MASTERS

1960 PAT CROSS is the new president of the Wellesley, Massachusetts Junior Service League.

1968 DOUGLAS SPEICHER has been named

IN MEMORY

ARTHUR VAN RIPER TILTON, 1920

Arthur Tilton, a former member of the faculty of Trinity, died April 24, 1974 in Hartford. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Taft Tilton; a daughter, Mrs. Joan Kenney; and six grandchildren.

Born in New York City, he prepared for college at Hartford Public High School. As a Trinity undergraduate he was a member of IKA, president of the Freshman Class, and a member of the TRIPOD staff. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the faculty of the College in the 1920's, teaching French and mechanical drawing. He was also assistant to President Ogilby from 1921-1926.

He was employed by the Hartford Insurance Company for 21 years until his retirement in 1962.

An active alumnus, Mr. Tilton was a member of the Board of Fellows from 1927-1933. He was also executive secretary of the Centennial Club from 1921-1923.

WARREN ALVAH HOUGH, 1924

Warren A. Hough, chemical engineer for the Travelers Insurance Company for 40 years, died April 7, 1974. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marguerite Burbank Hough.

Born in 1900 in Philadelphia, he prepared for college at the Kimball Union Academy in Meriden, New Hampshire. He received a Bachelor of Science Degree from Trinity in 1924. In 1929, he joined Travelers Insurance Company, where he was superintendent of engineering and loss control. He retired from Travelers in 1969.

ALEXANDER GREGORIEFF, 1928

Word has reached the College of the death of Alexander Gregorieff in October, 1973. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Natasha Lewin; two sons, Alexander Paul and Serge; two grandchildren; one brother, Igor A.; and a sister, Concordia.

Born in 1905 in Petrograd, Russia, he entered Trinity in 1924, having spent his high school years studying in Russia and Czechoslovakia. He received his degree from the Packard Business School in 1933. For many years he was associated with the Fuller Brush Company as a quality control inspector. He also taught Russian at the Loomis School, Windsor, Connecticut in the 1960's.

GREGORY TALLMAN MCKEE, 1938

Gregory McKee died March 17, 1974 at his home in Maumee, Ohio. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lee Deakins McKee; sons, Gregory and Thomas; and brother, Robert, Class of 1936.

Born in Galena, Illinois in 1917, Mr. McKee prepared for college at the Utica Free Academy in Utica, New York. As a Trinity undergraduate, he was a member and president of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity.

He served as a combat troop carrier pilot with the United States Army Air Force during World War II, attaining the rank of captain.

His business career included management and executive positions with R. H. Macy, Bostwick-Braun Company, and LaSalle's. At the time of his death, he was vice president of chairman of the division of humanities, Adirondack Community College, Glen Falls, New York.

1969 JOANJUKE says it is really fun teaching freshman composition in the evening division of Springfield (Massachusetts) Technical Community College, and Shakespeare in the evening division of Holyoke (Massachusetts) Community College.

1972 RALPH LOOMIS, urban and rural affairs manager for the northeastern division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, was the recent guest speaker at the Middletown, Connecticut Rotary Club.

1973 PETER SILVESTRI has been named director of public information at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania. Peter was a writer for the news bureaus at Amherst and at Trinity.

HONORARY

SAMUEL ELIOT MORISON '35, whose awards are almost as numerous as his books on history, will be publishing a new book in the fall. It is the second volume to "European Discovery of America - Northern Voyages."

FRAZAR B. WILDE '52, will receive an honorary Doctor of Economic Science degree from the University of Hartford.

LYMAN C. OGILBY '54 was recently invested as the 13th Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania.

HAROLD C. MARTIN '70, will become president of the American Academy in Rome as of August 1st. He is now president of Union College and chancellor of Union University.

operations for the Ohio Plate Glass Company.

For many years, he was a Class Agent. He was an accomplished trumpet player and former vestryman of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Maumee.

LEIGH BEST CORNELL, 1949

Leigh B. Cornell died March 10, 1974 in Boston. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jewel Maurelli Cornell; a sister, Mrs. David Larson; and a brother, Robert S. Cornell, Class of 1953.

Born on October 31, 1924 in New York City, Mr. Cornell prepared for college at St. Andrew's School, Middletown, Delaware. As a Trinity undergraduate, he was a member of Psi Upsilon, and a member of the Senate.

He was associated with A. O. Smith Corporation, metal fabricators, since his graduation. At the time of his death, he was Northeastern Regional Sales Manager for the Consumer Products Division.

EUGENE FRANKLIN SPENCER, 1951

Eugene F. Spencer of Clinton, Massachusetts died February 11, 1974. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Keely Spencer; two sons, George and Michael; four daughters, Deidre, Karen, Alison and Kelly; and three sisters, Mrs. Betty Jane Donnine, Mrs. Nancy Moody, and Mrs. Francis Mahan.

Born in Sterling, Massachusetts, Mr. Spencer prepared for college at the Clinton High School. He entered Trinity in 1947 with the Class of 1951. At Trinity he was a member of the Canterbury Club and the Commons Club. He was a World War II veteran.

A Clinton resident for 44 years, he was employed as a technical director for Marine Plastic Company, a division of Northern Petrochemicals, at the time of his death.

JOHN GATES SCHEIDE, 1953

John G. Scheide died in New York City February 22, 1974. He is survived by his step-mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Scheide and brothers Philip and Richard.

Mr. Scheide prepared for college at the Westminster School in Simsbury, Connecticut and entered Trinity in 1949 with the Class of 1953. He was a member of the swimming and track teams and belonged to Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He was a Marine Corps veteran.

Varsity pair, Bill Barney stroke Chad Mooney bow, finished season 11-2 placing 2d at the Dad Vail.

Crew

By Burton Apfelbaum '75

The 1975 Trinity crew program, with 7 boats in 6 different classifications, produced a record of 125 victories and 41 defeats in six regattas.

Trinity's Varsity Heavyweight eight began its season with a four length victory over W.P.I. to win the Mason-Downs Cup, then captured the Emerson Cup by one length over Coast Guard. Racing at Princeton April 20, the varsity defeated Georgetown by 3.5 seconds. The Bants next won the heavyweight event at Poughkeepsie in the President's Cup Regatta. Trinity defeated (in order of finish) St. Joseph's, Marist, Washington College, Holy Cross and W.P.I., edging runner-up St. Joseph's by one second. At the Rusty Callow Regatta on Lake Waramaug, Trin won both the heavyweight event and the overall point trophy, each for the second consecutive year. Before going to Philadelphia for the Dad Vail, the Bantam oarsmen were undefeated with ten victories to their credit. The wins over rivals Coast Guard and St. Joseph's at the Mason-Downs and President's Cups were the high points of the regular season for Norm Graf's second undefeated heavyweight eight.

At the Dad Vail, Trinity placed third of the twenty-seven boats in the heavyweight division. Though rowing one of their finest races of the season, Trinity was unable to match the progress of St. Joseph's, The Coast Guard, and the University of Massachusetts, the winner of the Vail for the second year in a row. It is a credit to Coach Graf that he has guided his varsity boat to the finals of the Vail in six of his seven seasons.

The Varsity Pair of Bill Barney stroke and Chad Mooney bow had a record of 12-2, placing second at the Vail.

The lightweight Varsity, coached by Gary Caldwell, was 7-2 before placing seventh of 22 at the Dad Vail winning the Petite Final.

With a 7-2 record, the Freshman Heavyweight placed third of 16 at the Vail. For the freshmen, the final of the Vail had to be the biggest frustration of the season. Ten strokes into the race an oarlock burst open allowing an oar to pop out. Before the boat could readjust they were three lengths behind the field. They came back to finish a strong third.

The 1975 season looks promising for under the leadership of captain-elect Phil Wendler, both varsity and junior varsity boats look strong. This year's varsity will lose two men, 1974 co-captains Curtis Jordan and Charles Putnam. Putnam has been the varsity stroke for two years. Both these oarsmen will be missed greatly. However two boatloads of lower class oarsmen will add to the competition for varsity seats next year.

Varsity Baseball

By Douglas Sanderson '74

The 1974 Bantam varsity baseball team had a 7-11 season, but the campaign closed on both an historic and exciting note as the Bants played their first tripleheader.

The three games featured a race for the team batting championship between Trinity's only .300 hitters, junior Mike Getz and Dave Kuncio. Kuncio, on the strength of a 5-for-8 performance, raised his average to .409, overtaking Getz's .375. But Getz's six RBI's for the day gave him 15 for the year.

The first game against Bowdoin, played at 10 a.m., featured a five-run Trinity first as the Bants built an 8-2 lead, then hung on for an 8-7 triumph. Key hits in the game were Getz's two-run triple, senior Mike Hoskinson's two-run single and sophomore John Wiggin's two-run triple.

Trinity then entertained Bates in the afternoon for two games, bowing 4-1 and winning 6-4. The Bants yielded two runs in the first inning of the loss, and were never able to recover.

The Bantams took a 5-2 lead in the third inning of the nightcap as Getz delivered a bases-loaded triple to right. But Bates came back with three in the fifth before sophomore Steve Carlow relieved.

In the seventh, Kuncio singled, and senior Rick Hall singled him to second before being erased on a double play, Kuncio taking third. Then Kindl, pinch-hit for winner Carlow and drove the ball over the Bates right fielder's head to win the game.

The Nine opened their season April 11 at Wesleyan, falling 7-3, then split a doubleheader with Colby. The Mules won the opener 6-0, then dropped to Trin 4-2.

Senior right-hander Bill Scully, the Bantam captain, led Trinity's second-game win with clutch pitching and two hits.

The Bantams next lost to Williams, 4-3, on the road after having tied the score in the top of the ninth. Only the winning run was earned by the Ephmen.

The Bants came back against Coast Guard, downing them at Trinity 8-3, and splitting with them in New London, 5-3 and 1-4. Steve Carlow went the distance for Trinity in the 8-3 win, scattering seven hits and allowing the game's only earned run. The game's offensive highlight was Mike Hoskinson's home run in the eighth. In the first half of the doubleheader, Kindl gave up two runs in the first inning, on no hits or walks, then scattered three hits as the Bants came back for the win. John Wiggin's sacrifice fly drove in the game-winning run for the 5-3 win.

In the 4-1 nightcap loss, Trinity loaded the bases with none out in the seventh (and final) inning but failed to score.

A fine pitching performance by Carlow, in relief of Scully, saved a 6-4 victory over the University of Hartford on April 22. Trinity, down 4-2, erupted for four runs in the top of the eighth inning for a 6-4 win.

WPI came to town on April 26, defeating the Bants 9-6. The Engineers' four-run fifth and three-run sixth innings were too much to overcome. A four-run Bantam rally in the ninth was keyed by Wiggin's 400-foot triple to right.

Trinity traveled to Tufts April 27 for a doubleheader and split 4-2 games. In the victory, Kindl pitched another three-hitter and Wiggin's last-inning single earned him the game-winning RBI.

The following week Trin lost 9-3 to Amherst, and 5-2 and 8-5 to Wesleyan, all at home. The powerful Lord Jeffs entered the game with a 9-2 record and .343 batting average.

The Springfield College game was disappointing. Though the final score was 18-7, Trinity led 5-3 after four and one-half innings. This was the last game prior to the historic tripleheader, which let Trinity go out on a positive note.

TRINITY SPORTS

Golf

By Peter Schuller '74

The Trinity golf team accepted a challenge last spring season, a challenge put forth by virtue of its faltering records in recent years and by the lack of emphasis placed on the sport. By responding to the challenge, the members of the 1974 team produced not only the best record of any Trinity varsity during the spring season but also compiled the most wins ever by a Trinity golf team, nine.

In 1966, Trinity golfers amassed an 8-2 record, the best at that time in the history of the sport at Trinity. This season the team surpassed that with a 9-4 total, establishing a new mark for number of wins in a season. The 1974 team, in order of playing position, Peter Schuller, Henry Bruce, Ed Staudinger, captain George Finkendaedt, Andy Taussig, Chris Jennings, Tom Shultz, and alternate Rich Huoppi also managed a second place finish in the Connecticut State Intercollegiate and eleventh place in the New England Collegiate.

The season started at home against the University of Rhode Island and Worcester Polytech. Trinity won both matches 4-3. Next the team swamped Conn College 7-0 and narrowly beat the University of Hartford, 4-3. The team then travelled to Wesleyan where they increased their record to 6-0 by handling Bowdoin 5-2 and Wesleyan 6-1. After defeating Coast Guard 6-1, Trinity went to the Connecticut Intercollegiate and finished a strong second behind Central Connecticut, led by Peter Schuller's 73, the lowest score ever posted by a Trinity player in that event. Following the Connecticut, the team had a rough week, succumbing to powerful Williams and Dartmouth, then finishing a disappointing eleventh (in a field of over 40 teams) in the New England. The week after that Trinity throttled AIC 7-0 but took a hard loss to Springfield 4-3 in their last home match and then beat MIT 7-0 and lost to Harvard by the same score to wind up the season at 9-4.

The individual records showed that the team had good depth: Schuller finished 8-2-1, Bruce 9-2, Staudinger 7-4, Finkendaedt 9-2, Taussig 5-6, Jennings 7-4, Schultz 7-4, and Huoppi 1-1. (There were two medal play matches which do not figure into the individual records and account for the discrepancy between the latter totals and the overall team record.)

Lacrosse

By Alan Stark '74

Although the 1974 Trinity Laxmen finished the season with an overall 5-6 record, this junior oriented team has a bright future. Of the 107 goals scored this year all but six were by underclassmen.

The offensive minded Bants broke six college scoring records: season scoring team goals (107); season assists (54); season team points (161); career goals (59 Nick Bensley 1973-4); season goals-midfielder (26 Chris Max). Another record which speaks well of an individual is Jeff Ford's 176 goalie saves.

The laxmen started on April 6 with a 7-6 defeat at the hands of Holy Cross. Trin came back a week later behind the efforts of Chris Max (2 goals, 1 assist) to

(Continued on Page 4)